BEATTY ENTERS RACE AGAINST MAYOR BENEDUM

LAST FILING DAY

Pansy H. McDonnell Opposes Edwards for Court Clerk.

With the time limit for entering the August 13 primaries expiring at midnight tonight,
James C. B. Beatty, pottery salesman, twice a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination and an independent candidate for the city post six years ago, today filed his declaration of candidacy for the Democratic mayoralty nomination. He will oppose Mayor Ralph C. Benedum who is seeking a third term.

Seven Sign Declaration
Beatty's declaration was signed by C.
W. Heffernan, Martha McKeever,
James McCullough, James Buchanan,
Edward Myers, Arthur King and Samuel
H. Parsitt.

Beatty ran second in a field of three for the mayoralty in 1923 when the late Charles Brown, Republican, was elected. The next year he opposed Governor A. V. Donahey for the Democratic nomination for governor. Two years later he also sought the gubernatorial nomination.

He is a Mason, being affiliated with the blue lodge, Royal Arch Masons and

LARGEST FLAG RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON

Nearly covering the front of the Capitol at Washington, this enormous flag, the largest in the country, is shown draped during the flag raising services held by the U. S. Flag association. The giant example of "Old Glory" weighs 640 pounds and is 165 feet in length by 90 feet in width.

SOUTHAMPTON GREETES DAWES AS AMBASSADOR

General Arrives in England to Take up Duties.

EVADES SCRIBES

Typewritten Statement
Handed Out as Liner Docks.

By Frank A. Wray,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 14.— General Charles Gates Dawes, newly-appointed American ambassador to England, arrived today to take up his duties.

Ambassador Dawes was a passenger upon the liner Olympic. He was given a civic reception, but refused to be interviewed.

The ambassador handed out a prepared, typewritten statement which said:

"I realize fully the confidence shown in me by my appointment to this responsible position. I shall endeavor in every way faithfully to perform the duties it involves."

He refused, tactfully but with persistence, to go beyond this flat statement.

Enthusiastically Received.
Gen. Dawes was enthusiastically received in the crowded lounge of the liner. He was officially greeted by the mayor, the admiral of the port and representatives of the aldermen.

The official spokesman, after referring to Gen. Dawes' prewar and postwar achievements, added:

"The work in front of you may prove one of the greatest missions ever fulfilled by any American in England."

The ambassador, who was attired in a gray business suit, replied briefly, warmly thanking the officials for their welcome. He said, however, he did not believe he deserved to be entrusted with such an important mission.

FIRST NON-STOP HOP ANNIVERSARY

LONDON, June 14.—(INS).—With the French monoplane Yellow Bird well on its way over the Atlantic from Old Orchard, Me., to Paris, airmen assembled here today to observe the tenth anniversary of the trans-ocean flight of Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Whitten Brown.

This was the first direct non-stop flight from America to Europe proper.
A few weeks earlier the United States navy plane NC-4 had flown from Newfoundland to Lisbon, but it stopped at the Azores to refuel.

Spanish Filers Given Medals.
MADRID, June 14.—(INS).—King Alfonso today pinned aviation medals upon Ignace Iglesias and Francisco Jimenez for their trans-Atlantic flight from Seville to Brazil. The king also planned the military medal upon Commander Franco, Spanish aviator planning a round-the-world flight.

BRIDE TO SPANK BOY STOWAWAY

NEW YORK, June 14.—(INS).—
If Mrs. Pauline Assolant, four-day bride of the pilot of the "Yellow Bird," ever gets a good grip on Arthur Schreiber, Arthur's 22 years won't save him from a good old-fashioned drubbing.

Arthur is the young man who is believed stowed away on the Yellow Bird and Arthur is the young man Mrs. Assolant blames for the diminishing of the plane's fuel supply.

"It is wicked—to stowaway on a plane," she said today at the Yellow Bird tower, where she sits hour after hour by the radio. "Do you really think that stowaway is aboard? Terrible—terrible—I never heard of such a terrible thing."

THREE MEN DIE IN SHIP BLAST

Flames Sweep Gulf Pen
In Brooklyn Dry
Dock.

NEW YORK, June 14.—(INS).—
Three men were instantly killed and a number injured today by a terrific explosion aboard the steamship Gulf Pen in the Robin's dry dock, Brooklyn.

Flames swept the ship after the blast.

Ambulances, rescue squads and fire apparatus were rushed to the scene.

LEGION SCOUTS' DINNER TONIGHT

Members of Troop 42, Boy Scouts of America, their parents and American Legion members will be guests of the ladies' auxiliary at a dinner in the Legion hall, 633 Dresden avenue, at 8:30 o'clock tonight in recognition of the troop's services in the recent Poppy Day campaign.

Talks will be given by the Rev.
Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church;
Charles E. Felton, Boy Scout executive; Dr. Collin Kinsey, dentist and member of the board of education and Attorney Blaine H. Cochran.

FIVE ARE HURT IN AUTO WRECK

Five persons were cut and bruised when an automobile driven by Ralph Bennett, 319 Norton street, went into a ditch and overturned on the Lincoln highway, north of here, at noon today.

The injured were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett, their eight-month-old son,
Ralph, Jr., Mr. Bennett's father, James Bennett, also of Norton street, and Sarah Haight, 5, granddaughter of the latter. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett and James Bennett were taken to the hospital where their injuries were dressed.

County Legion Session Here July 15
East Liverpool was selected for the July 15 meeting of the Columbiana County council, American Legion, at a session in Lisbon last night. The local post was represented by Charles Marton, adjutant.

TORCH KILLER SAYS HE WILL DEFEAT "CHAIR"

Natural Death Expected
Before Appeal is Heard.

CAMPBELL BROKEN

New Jersey Jury
Votes First Degree Verdict.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 14.—
"Even if it is only by means of the natural death that is bound to come soon, we will defeat the electric chair."

This was the statement made today by Francis A. Gordon, youthful attorney, whose client, Henry Colin Campbell, was sentenced to die during the week of July 15 for the torch murder of his bigamous wife, Mrs. Mildred Mowry.

Immediately after Justice Clarence E. Case of the supreme court meted out the sentence of death to the 60-year-old slayer following the verdict of guilty of murder in the first-degree reached by the jury after four hours' deliberation. Gordon laid his plans for an appeal to a higher court.

"The case will be taken before the court of errors and appeals," Gordon said. "This will automatically act as a stay of execution, for the court does not meet until the fall."

"If this court sustains the verdict,
I will appeal to the court of errors.
No stone shall be left unturned to prevent this broken, irresponsible man from going to his death in the electric chair."

Gordon said it was likely that the case will not be disposed of finally until after the first of next year.
Medical men who have examined the murderer have the opinion that the ravages of disease and drug addiction are almost certain to end his span of life before that time.

The unequivocal verdict of murder in the first degree came as a surprise to the huge crowd which jammed into every nook and corner of the tiny courtroom where the sordid details of the woman's killing were unfolded.

MUSIC DRIVE LEADERS CONFER

Meeting of the board of directors and team captains in the recent membership drive of the Civic Music association was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Little building this afternoon. Plans for a "clean-up" in the campaign were discussed.

Man's Leg Fractured In Fall.

Joseph C. McCord, 48, Midland, Pa., carpenter, suffered a fracture of the right knee when he fell six feet from a concrete form in the finishing mill of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company at Midland at 10 o'clock this morning. He was attended by Dr. J.
A. Helfrich and removed to the Rochester General hospital.

TREASURY AIDE UPHOLDS DRY LAW SHOOTING

Minnesota Customs Patrolman Within Authority.

LOWMAN TO ACT

'Perfect Defense' Claimed in International Falls Killing.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(INS).—
An investigation of the shooting of Henry Virkula by Customs Patrolman
Ernest J. White, near International Falls, Minn., showed that the agent
"apparently was acting within his authority under the law. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman announced today, upon receipts of a report from customs officials in Minnesota.

White has "a perfect defense" to the charges that have been made against him, according to Lowman.

"If the local courts indict White a motion will be made to transfer his case to the United States court for trial," Lowman declared. "A customs border patrolman is entitled to have any charges made against him decided by a jury of his peers, the same as any other citizen."

Lowman's statement concerning the case gave no details of the killing of Virkula. The report, upon which the statement was based, was received from Assistant Collector of Customs Lindenberg, of Duluth, Minn. Lind-enberg has jurisdiction over the border patrol in that area.

"It would appear from the report that the newspaper accounts of the affair have been highly colored, to put it mildly," Lowman declared.

"The treasury has no intention of disarming customs patrolmen. Should congress pass a law disarming them it would, in effect, repeal the tariff laws because it is only through police powers that the smuggling of merchandise into the United States can be prevented.

"If prohibition agents are disarmed, it would, in effect, nullify the Eighteenth amendment. Treasury regulations control the use of firearms by its operatives and they are very stringent."

MRS. T. J. BARNES DIES; AGED 71

Mrs. Anna Reynolds Barnes, 71, widow of the late Thomas J. Barnes, former East Liverpool grocer, died in the home of her son-in-law, R. A. Galloway, Ben Avon, Pa., yesterday.

The Barnes family, who formerly lived in West Sixth street and Oakmont, moved to Pittsburgh about 10 years ago. Mr. Barnes died about seven years ago.

Mrs. Barnes was the last surviving member of her family. A daughter, Mrs. Galloway, died last summer. A son, Thomas, Jr., died when he was six years of age. Mrs. George Brunt, Columbus, is a sister.

The body was taken to the W. H.
Wood funeral home, Forbes street and McKee place, Pittsburgh. Funeral services will be held at Riverview cemetery, here, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

THREE MOTORISTS FINED BY JUDGE

Michael Lavin, West Third street, was fined $50 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today, following his arrest in East Fourth street by Patrolman James Haley last night upon a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Joe Price, 430 Walnut street, was fined $1 and costs for fast and reckless driving with an open cut-out.
He was arrested by Patrolman George Kidder.

Lester Parson, 316 East Third street, was fined $2 for parking in front of the American theater in East Sixth street.

E. PALESTINE MAN GOES TO PRISON

Gilbert Kimes, 25, East Palestine, was sentenced to serve from one to five years in the penitentiary by Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court, Lisbon, today, after he pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with the removal of a mortgaged automobile from the state. Kimes is married and the father of two children.

MAJOR HUNTON CITADEL SPEAKER

Major Thomas Hunton, Akron, retired Salvation Army officer, will

TRANS-ATLANTIC HOPPERS MAY REACH LE BOURGET AT 8 TONIGHT

Plane Carries 1,007 Gallons of Gasoline Mixed With Benzol, But Course Via Azores Gives
Possible Landing Place if Their Fuel Supply Runs Low.

PARIS, June 14.—(INS).—An unconfirmed rumor reached Paris early tonight that the French trans-Atlantic plane, the "Yellow Bird," had been forced down off Portugal.

LISBON, June 14.—(INS).—No news concerning the progress of the flight of the French monoplane, "Yellow Bird," had been received in Lisbon at a late hour
today.

LONDON, June 14.—(INS).—The Yellow Bird passed over the steamship Niagara 110 miles northeast of the Azores this afternoon, according to the Central News.
The French monoplane sent a radiogram saying "All O. K."

HORTA, Azores, June 14.—(INS).—A strong south wind was blowing off the Azores late this afternoon.
Up to 5 o'clock the "Yellow Bird" had not been sighted.

PARIS, June 14.—(INS).—The Yellow Bird was approximately 200 miles north of the Azores at 1 o'clock this afternoon
(8 a. m. New York Daylight Saving Time), according to Armeno Lotti, sr., who announced he had received a radiogram from the monoplane.

NINE SUCCESSFUL PLANE HOPS OVER NORTH ATLANTIC SINCE 1919

There have been nine successful airplane flights over the north Atlantic, eight of them from west to east, in the last 10 years. If the "Yellow Bird" succeeds it will be the tenth.

The first crossing was made by the United States navy plane NC-4 in 1919. The other west-to-east flights were made by:

Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Whitten Brown.
Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.
Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine.
Commander R. E. Byrd and party.
Edward Schlee and Edward Brock.
Wilmer Stultz and Miss Amelia Earheart.
The east-to-west flights were made by:
Captain Eric Nelson and Lieut. Lowell Smith.
Baron von Huenefeld, Captain Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice.

Lotti, whose son promoted the flight and is one of the three fliers in the plane, notified Le Bourget field that his wireless message gave the location of the Yellow Bird as 29 longitude and 42 latitude at 1 o'clock.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the government weather bureau forecast said there were indications of stormy weather off the coast, through which the plane would have to travel.

At that time the Yellow Bird had completed approximately two-thirds of the "water jump."

Fayal, Azores, which lies due south of the reported position of the airmen, is about 2,100 miles from Old Orchard, Me.

MOTHER PRAYS FOR SAFETY OF SON WHO IS STOWAWAY ON OCEAN HOP

PORTLAND, Me., June 14.—(INS).—
A mother's prayer fervently went up to heaven for the safety of her boy and probably a father's, too, as he silently went about his tailor shop
today.

The anxious parents are Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Schreiber whose 22-year-old adventurous son, Arthur, was believed to be a stowaway aboard the Old Orchard Beach-to-Paris monoplane Yellow Bird.

"God will protect him," cried the mother. The father would say nothing.

Flips Coin With Pal.
The flip of a coin with a pal, J.
Wilbur Clark, of Hartford, Conn., won the "great adventure" for Arthur, according to statements made at Old Orchard Beach by young Clark. A typical American boy—fearless of the possibilities of death in the hazardous flight, looking for adventure for the pure joy of it and with all a business eye for the financial benefits if he succeeded—was the description of Arthur by his friend.

Young Schreiber and young Clark fell in together while watching the airplanes Yellow Bird and Green Flash. Clark said they began talking about stowing away on one of them.
Schreiber wanted to go on the Green Flash to Rome but told Clark that there didn't seem to be enough room on the plane, which later all but "cracked up" at the attempted takeoff. Then, according to Clark, Schreiber climbed into the Yellow Bird while the trio of French airmen were having their photographs taken in front of the propeller. Schreiber urged Clark to get aboard, too, after Schreiber had taken his photograph.

FRANCE PREPARES TO WELCOME ITS NATIVE HEROES AT LE BOURGET

BY ROBERT W. THOMPSON,
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

LE BOURGET France, June 14.—
The hitherto unparalleled enthusiasm which greeted the arrival of Colonel Charles Lindbergh on this flying field after his trail-blazing flight across the Atlantic two years ago, was threatened with eclipse today as France prepared to welcome its native heroes, Armeno Lotti, Jean Assolant and Rene Lefevre, bound for Le Bourget from Old Orchard, Maine.

As the hours passed with no unfavorable news of the daring attempt, in which the French aviators are trying to cut down Lindbergh's record for the ocean crossing, public excitement reached a high pitch, and if the fliers land safely this afternoon, the reception accorded them will be unprecedented in history.

Huge Crowd at Field.
From the early hours of the morning the administrative headquarters of Le Bourget was deluged with requests from persons interested in the progress of the flight, and the break of day saw a huge crowd already assembled at the field to await the arrival.

Many brought their lunches, prepared to stand about the entire day in the hope of greeting the fliers personally. Almost every hour additional forces of police were assigned to strategical points on the field to keep the crowd in order.

If Lotti, Assolant and Lefevre land

Today

To Teach Thinking.
Hail Miss Goldarbeiter.
Thoughtful Bourbon.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

DEAN HUTCHINS, soon to be dean of the University of Chicago and youngest president of any big college in the United States, says the teacher's real work is teaching students to THINK.

A university is not made to reform or amuse young men, but to teach them to think, to think straight if possible, but to think always for themselves.

No educator ever said anything more important or expressed more accurately the purpose of education.

But how can you teach men TO THINK? That is the question. You must take them young. Prof. Hutchins says, "It is sad but true that at 18 or 19 it is too late to take a boy and make a man of him and interest him in his studies. He is solidified too often in more ways than one."

GALVESTON decides that Miss Lisl Goldarbeiter, Austrian brunnette with blue eyes, is the most beautiful girl in the world. In fact, she is crowned "Miss Universe."

The most beautiful girl to be found in the United States, Miss Irene Ahl-berg, only got second prize and $1,000.

"QUEEN OF THE UNIVERSE" seems rather a large title. Miss Gold-arbeiter would probably be amazed if she could see the young ladies on some planet one million light years away from this corner of space, and those far off interstellar young women, perhaps 1,000 times as big as Miss Goldarbeiter, and each with 1,000 eyes, perhaps, would be surprised to see her.

FOUR YEARS OF NEURITIS SUFFERING CURBED

Popular Newell, W. Va., Young Lady Almost at the Point of Despair, Finds Relief in Owa-Ton-Na.

Young and old, men and women in all walks of life praise this fine old Indian Remedy in kidney, liver, stomach and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run down condition of health. Many who have reached the point of despair, feeling that there is no further help for them, have found in Owa-Ton-Na a new way to health. Not through the use of dangerous, harmful drugs but by nature's own roots, herbs, barks and berries. Owa-Ton-Na is an old Indian formula which has been successfully used for generations among the Indians. It can now be had at Carnahan's Drug Store 114 E. 6th St. where a special laboratory representative is explaining to eager health seekers the benefits to be derived from its use. It does not perform miracles nor is it a cure-all. Its aid in the elimination of harmful poisons from the system results in giving nature a chance to rebuild normal health.

Miss Birdie Smith, Jefferson St., Newell, W. Va., has had such remarkable results with Owa-Ton-Na that it is small wonder that her many friends comment on her enthusiasm. Yet when one knows the discouraging time that Miss Smith has had, even at so young an age, it is not surprising that she is enthusiastic about this fine old Indian Remedy. Time after time, she had tried different medicines and expensive treatments trying to rid herself of the condition which was breaking down her health. Discouraging indeed are the constant disappointments of unsuccessful treatment. She felt that her only hope lay in the consultation of expensive specialists. Owa-Ton-Na has made this unnecessary and once again Miss Smith enjoys the abundant health which is her right in the Springtime of life. She says: "Had I only known about Owa-Ton-Na long ago, I could have saved my self no end of misery. Kidney, liver and stomach disorders were breaking down my health. Food of any kind gave me no end of distress, gas and bloating spells would crowd my heart and make me short of breath. Food just lay in my stomach like a lump of lead and didn't seem to digest."

"Constipation made this condition worse and a sluggish liver made me tired, worn out and nervous. My kidneys, too, gave me a great deal of trouble. Bladder irritation made it necessary for me to get up several times each night to relieve this condition. The joints all over my body seemed to have sharp, piercing pains and I was afraid that rheumatism would get a hold on me. I have seen so many people who suffered with this condition and have suffered so much with it myself that I did everything

Birdie Smith

I could to avoid it. I got so discouraged, I didn't know what to do. I had tried everything that had been recommended to me yet nothing seemed to do me any good."

"One day I called at the drug store and learned about the good that Owa-Ton-Na was doing in so many cases similar to mine and as a last resort I tried even this. Much to my surprise the medicine seemed to act differently than anything I had ever taken. In just a few bottles I felt like a different person. Food digested better, no more gas and bloating spells, my bowels began to act regularly and kidneys more normally. Backaches and headaches disappeared and gradually I could feel a difference in my rheumatism."

"Pains were not so severe and it wasn't long until they were completely gone. I just can't believe that any one medicine could do so much for me as Owa-Ton-Na has. I can now go to bed and sleep the whole night through, getting up in the morning refreshed and once again enjoy myself. Would that I could tell all sufferers personally about this fine old Indian Remedy. Words cannot express the good I have received through its use."

Cases like this of Miss Smith's are not unusual in the history of Owa-Ton-Na. Time after time it has been successful where all other methods have failed. If you are suffering, why hesitate another day? Why not at least give this harmless remedy a trial. A trial bottle is usually sufficient to prove its merits to you personally. Call at Carnahan's Drug Store and have a talk with the laboratory representative about your own case. Owa-Ton-Na is also obtainable at Carnahan's, Newell, W. Va., and East End Stores.

Visiting Ministers Aid In Dedication

The Rev. Thomas G. Berger Arranges Program For Services Sunday in Second Presbyterian Church.

WELLSVILLE, O., June 14.—Led by the pastors, the Rev. Thomas G. Berger, the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church, Wellsville, aided by the Rev. W. H. Lowry, D. D., the Rev. John Sharpe, D. D., moderator of the Steubenville presbytery, and musicians, will dedicate the reconstructed church edifice at special services Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The Rev. E. A. Walker, Emmanuel church, East Liverpool—"The Church and the Community."

The Rev. Harold Post, pastor of the First church here, will speak at preparatory services Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

LEAGUE RIVALS CLASH TONIGHT

In second place as a result of two consecutive defeats by the K. T. K. club of East Liverpool, the Wellsville Nash Motors will battle the Pelter combine again tonight at Nicholson Field in an effort to regain their place at the head of the Inter-City diamond circuit.

The locals are just a game behind the Katties and a victory tonight would tie them for the top position.

Wellsville has won four and lost four for a .500 rating, while the Katties have won five and lost three.

Only two games' difference separates the Katties in first place and Laughlin in last place.

19 CANDIDATES FILE PAPERS

SMART LUGGAGE AS APPROPRIATE TRAVELING COMPANIONS

Have you ever noticed how much real joy comes from having the right vacation luggage? If it's a short trip it's a pleasure to have a good sized overnight bag with all your fittings in it right, ready to pick up and go. Or if it's a matter of a week there's positively nothing that can take the place of the new wardrobe hat box. Just ask any woman who has had the satisfaction of owning one. And there are people who tour Europe with a Pullman case. Though we recommend a trunk for keeping your clothes in spotless condition.

Gladstone Bags—for the man traveler—$8.00 to $32.00.

A hat box is really a carryall for most women. Its amazing how much they will hold and easy to carry, too.—$1.00 to $24.00.

Pullman Cases—fits right under your berth—easy to carry—$11.50 to $23.00.

Smart Handbags in all new leathers—$2.75 to $26.00.

Every woman needs a fitted case for hurry-up trips. Smart cases in a variety of leathers and fittings—$10.75 to $18.00.

If it's a trip of any length—the wardrobe trunk is indispensable. Styles and sizes for every purse and journey—$25.00 to $65.00.

A place for everything and everything in its place in a wardrobe hat box—a joy to the traveler—$12.50.

MRS. JOHN STOUT CLASS HOSTESS

Mrs. John Stout was hostess to members of Sunday school class 10 of the First Methodist Protestant church last night at her home in Clark avenue.

Business session was followed by a social hour. Games and contests were diversions, prizes being awarded Mrs. Fred Lowry, Mrs. Dwight Moorehead and Mrs. Charles Steel.

Luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Harold Gefeller of Steubenville, and Miss Frances Russell.

Mrs. Clyde Eastham of Sebring was a guest.

The July meeting will take the form of a picnic.

"Why can't you get your lessons?"

"BILLY, you must stop stammering and recite your lessons like other children. There is no sense in stammering like you do. You can call your dog all right and you can talk with me."

But Mother did not know that Billy could not stop stammering. If his little heart could have been searched Mother would have known that Billy longed every waking hour since he began to talk that he might speak like other boys and girls.

He doesn't like to have children make fun of him at school. He knows that he can talk to himself in the woods, or can tell his troubles to his dog, but in school or among people he just cannot talk.

He is spared the knowledge that Billy will not outgrow his affliction. He must suffer under it all his life, interfering with good jobs, happiness and pleasure, unless—

Another boy in Indiana thirty or more years ago was cursed just like Billy. He tried many remedies but could talk no better. Then he studied speech organs and their relation to the brain; finally found what was wrong with him, and cured himself. Since then he has cured thousands of people the same way. And they stay cured, just as he has.

The story of his marvelous cure, without drugs or knife, is told in a book of 288 pages, which he will send for ten cents. It explains how he cures men and women, if they have the desire to help themselves, and does it usually in a few weeks.

MIDLAND, Pa., June 14.—The women of the Presentation Catholic church will hold a lawn fete at Eighth street and Penn avenue, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 25 and 26.

HARD WATER PLUS MELO MAKES SOFT WATER.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Very dirty pans? No, very hard water

The pots and pans weren't very greasy. But the water was hard. It mixed with the soap, and formed scum! How could pots and pans get clean? They just had to stay greasy! They needed a cleaner!

That was before Melo's time. Now hard water, softened with Melo, becomes a very fine cleaner, with or without soap. Dirty ring? Scum? Grease? All gone. Soap much more effective! Pots and pans? Shiny and gleaming! At 10c a can you can afford to buy three—one for the kitchen, laundry, and bathroom.

CURRY CHAPEL SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK GOES ON

Status as Church is Withdrawn by Presbytery.

MEMORIAL UNIT Bible Classes Under Mrs. Aaron Moore's Direction.

Though its status as a church congregation has formally been withdrawn by the Steubenville presbytery, which recently met here for the purpose, Sunday school in the Curry Memorial Presbyterian edifice, West Eighth street, will be continued for at least six months.

The school is under the direction of Mrs. Aaron Moore.

The building was originally erected as a chapel of the First Presbyterian church. In 1923, when the Rev. J. Harry Cotton, now the pastor of the Broad Street Presbyterian church, of Columbus, was an assistant to the Rev. Dr. D. W. MacLeod, of the First Presbyterian church here, the then West End chapel, as it was originally called, was organized into a church. Until he entered Princeton Theological seminary from which he later graduated and of which he was recently named a director, he served as its pastor.

In the interim, the congregation, for the most part, has been allied with the Madison and Calcutta Presbyterian churches.

Situated in territory with a large Sunday school contingent it has done notable work in teaching Biblical truths.

Among those who were touched by Inspectors Charles Garfinkel and Nelson Heinz, of the Immigration service for a hearing. They are alleged to have been smuggled into this country from Canada.

Ocean Flying Season Opens

The 1929 season for transatlantic flying which has not yet shown itself to be the most promising venture, has been opened by the French monoplane Yellow Bird, carrying Rene Lefere, Armand Lotti and Jean Assolant, the latter the husband of an American girl, who are winging their way to Paris after a hop-off yesterday from Old Orchard, Me.

The Frenchmen, who expect to make the long flight in 30 hours, or three hours less than the record made by Col. Lindbergh, who blazed the trail two years ago, made an almost perfect take-off from the sandy beach, where, shortly afterwards, the American plane, Green Flash, skidded, bent over on her side and "cracked up."

Failing to profit by the lessons of the unsuccessful attempt to get away a few weeks ago, when, overloaded to the breaking point with fuel, it staggered into the sand at the end of the long natural runway, the Green Flash was forced to call off the proposed international air derby. However, the Yellow Bird, despite the gasoline carried for its 600-horsepower motor, soared away and later flashed, "Everything okay."

Thus has been inaugurated the summer flying season that will see many hops back and forth between the North American and European continents. The Graf Zeppelin, which has already made one round trip with passengers and mail and carried some freight when it returned to Germany, is preparing for another voyage. Other competition in this lighter-than-air field is expected from England, where two ships of this type are nearing completion. A heavier-than-air machine is being groomed for a flight from Germany to New York, and Colonel James C. Fitzmaurice, one of the Bremen fliers, expects to make another trans-ocean flight this summer. Although some of the pilots in proposed Atlantic hops are attempting to demonstrate the commercial possibilities of the aerial route between the two continents, most of them are searching for fame.

There is nothing to be gained in ill-advised and dangerous flights.

Census And Reapportionment

The census and congressional reapportionment bill has been approved by the two houses of congress, and the legislative branch of the government may no longer be charged with persevering in the most notable defiance of the constitution in our history, to which it has been subject for the last eight years. It is said that the president will affix his signature, and thus the taking of the 1930 decennial census and reapportionment of the membership of the lower house of congress are as good as assured.

For a time last week the fate of the bill was in doubt as the result of two amendments passed by the house. One amendment would have excluded aliens from the census upon which house reapportionment is based, which would have been a blow to the cities, in which they are very largely congregated. The other would have excluded from the count on which to base congressional reapportionment all persons of age and eligible to vote who have been denied the right of suffrage. This would have hit the south, where the Negroes are as good as disfranchised. The very ticklish situation resulting from the passing of these amendments was broken, when Majority Floor Leader Tilsen offered an amendment wiping out the entire section carrying the two amendments responsible for the legislative jam, which was passed by a vote of 272 to 105.

The expected results of the bill will be to make the cities and the villages of 2,500 or more inhabitants predominant in the election of members of the house, putting them in control of that body for the first time in its history by giving the great cities and industrial centers more congressmen and reducing the number from the rural districts. It will probably add five or six more to the electoral vote of the Republican party, as the electoral vote is based on the number of congressmen, and the greatest gain in congressional strength will be in states normally Republican and the chief losses sustained by states normally Democratic.

However, no matter what the results may be; no matter whether the law may work to the advantage of urban or rural representation, whether it increases the Republican or Democratic electoral vote, its enactment is in conformity to the basic law of the land by which we as a people must be guided and to which we must conform if law is to survive in the land. And by far the most important phase of the matter is that it removes the spectacle of the legislative branch appearing year after year in the attitude of defiance to the law under which and solely by means of which it has its being—a standing reproach to our form of government and to us as a people and an encouragement to defiance by the citizenship of the country of all law.

Stopping Crime

It has been proposed by Senator Fish, Republican, of New York, that a law be passed making it unlawful to transport machine guns and automatic rifles in interstate commerce and that offenders be punished by five years in prison and a fine of $5,000. Mr. Fish's proposal was not greeted with applause. The New York legislator's colleagues are beginning to realize that cluttering up the law tomes with punitive measures is not going to stop bad men and women from shooting each other. It will merely force them to be more careful.

Gangland operators transporting weapons do not hire a band and invite inspection. They are accustomed to carrying on their operations with secrecy and as far removed from any activities of interstate commerce information gathers as it is possible to get. Barring the presence of a war, transportation of weapons in large quantities is always considered a shady activity.

In half of the measures inscribed on the statute books were rigorously enforced, respectable citizens would be unable to stir out of their houses for fear of arrest. It is probable that the crook, with a fund of information on law evasion, would be more free in his movements because enforcement would be busily engaged in keeping track of the honest man.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—The farmer has been added in his insistence that he is in need of government relief by the compilation of figures showing that the value of his land continues on the decline. The department of agriculture has just completed a set of figures showing averages of value of farm lands over the last nine years.

Nothing had occurred to affect farm land values vitally for many years prior to the outbreak of the war in Europe in 1914 so the average value for 1912-1914 has been taken by the department as representing 100. Figures for subsequent years show the percentage above that figure to which farm land values have attained.

Even before the United States entered the war the price of farm products rose sharply because the belligerent European governments entered the markets as large scale buyers. With millions of men under arms and broad expanses occupied by armies devastated to such an extent that tillage was out of the question, it was necessary to turn to the new world for food. As always when a strong effectual demand exists, prices rose. Farming became profitable and as land is the farmer's capital, the price of farm land went steadily higher each year. Indeed, a large part of the farmer's subsequent distress was due to the fact that he speculated in farm lands. There was competition, of course, and acreage prices were bid up and up. Mortgages were given. Farm lands that before the war were valued at only $150 an acre went in some cases as high as $400 or $500. Had the war continued indefinitely, these prices would not have proved excessive. But peace came and later the price break and subsequent depression. The day of big profits was over but the mortgages on the land were unpaid.

This spring, the department finds that farm land values are still 17 per cent above what they were in 1912-14 but at the peak they were 70 per cent higher. That was in 1920. The big break came immediately after and by 1925 farm land values were 27 per cent above pre-war. While manufacturing and other industries recovered from the 1920-21 depression, the farm industry did not and instead of farm land prices turning upward again, they commenced a steady decline which has continued right down to the present year. In 1926 farm land was valued at 24 per cent above pre-war, in 1927 only 15 per cent above pre-war.

New England land prices reached a peak of 40 per cent above pre-war in 1920 and now are 26 above. New England has a good deal of farm land but it is small farms. Values did not soar during the war as they did in states where farming is done on a wholesale scale but, on the other hand, they have not fallen as low. Contrast these New England fluctuations with the very heart of the grain belt, the ladder of the nation. The section which includes Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas saw farm lands rise on an average of 84 per cent above pre-war values while now they are but 12 per cent above. The 1920 peak for this section was 14 per cent above the peak average for the whole nation and the low point recorded this year for that section is 4 per cent lower than the national average.

New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania land values rose only 36 per cent above the pre-war average and have sunk back to a position only 9 per cent above. The biggest drop has affected Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. These states enjoyed a 1920 peak of land values 61 per cent above pre-war values. This year prices are down to precisely what they were before the war.

Some farm land values have actually risen above the 1920 peak. Values in Rhode Island are 4 per cent greater than in 1920 and Connecticut values are 2 per cent greater. This unquestionably is due to the fact that lands still classed as farm lands have been purchased at high prices by big city dwellers desiring country estates or have been developed because of their proximity to large cities. These increases do not properly reflect actual value as farm land.

The fate of boom states is interesting. Florida land reached a peak of 78 per cent of pre-war value in 1920 and even now is 74 per cent above. California farm land was 67 per cent above pre-war in 1920 and now is 60 per cent above.

The very high peaks reached in some states indicate that prices were unduly inflated during the war. For example, farm land values rose in certain states as follows: Minnesota, 113 per cent above pre-war; Iowa, 113 per cent; North Carolina, 123 per cent; South Carolina, 130 per cent; Georgia, 117 per cent; Kentucky and Tennessee, 100 per cent; Mississippi, 18 per cent; and Arkansas 122 per cent. All of these values have been cut practically in half.

Questions And Answers

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Q. How does Lake Okechobee rank in size among fresh water lakes in the United States? W. A. S.

A. The geological survey says that the area of Lake Okechobee varies from 710 to 730 square miles and also that it is the second largest fresh water lake in the United States. The largest in the United States is Lake Michigan. Lake Pontchartrain is the third in size in the United States.

Q. Is Lon Chaney American-born? H. T.

A. He is. He was born at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Q. Is it true that France was paid $1,000,000 for repairs made necessary after the occupancy of the Hotel Crillon by President Wilson and his retinue? A. K. S.

A. The government of the United States did not pay the French government $1,000,000 for repairs, etc., on the hotel occupied by President Wilson during the Paris peace conference. "The United States government paid the French government nothing, as all settlements were made with the Societe de Louvre, the owners of the Hotel Crillon. In Senate Document 330, 66th congress, third session, there is a full report of all expenditures made by the American commission to negotiate peace. By reference to that document it will be learned that the total amount paid for rent, damage, breakage, losses, etc., for the period from December 1, 1918, to December 31, 1919, was $288,651.29."

Q. How many branches has the Bank of Italy in California? D. P.

A. It has 291 branches in 166 cities.

Q. Are there any other countries besides England that are noted as great tea drinkers? C. D.

A. The habit of excessive tea drinking is to be found in England, Scotland, Newfoundland and Labrador, especially among the poor.

Q. What country invented punctuation? B. C.

A. As early as the 4th century B. C., Greeks were beginning to punctuate slightly, but it was in Alexandria that an organized system of punctuation was being developed.

Ritzy Rosalie

"But don't go near the water." Rosalie didn't really feel like swimming today, and just wanted to wear the new beach cape she had purchased. The cape is made of a large scarf slit at one end to produce a boat neck and bertha effect, and the colors are red, blue, yellow, black and white, combined in a modernistic effect for the upper portion and a circular design below. This same type of cape, in milder hues, of course, is used as an evening wrap. The material is silk crepe.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, June 14. — Thoughts while strolling: Able bodied gyps who sell dancing dolls and rubber ducks along the curb. Ewing Galloway, the photographer. Why doesn't some one think up a permanent shave? Lecturing psychologists who wind up trying to sell their sex tomes.

John McEntee Bowman, a Toronto, Can., boy, who made good in the city. Silver haired messengers "boys." The beggar with the electric light in his wooden leg. Ralph Pulitzer. Radio announcers should learn how to pronounce orchestra. Edna Ferber leaving her hotel—the Barbizon.

Another $11 movie opening. With searchlights and microphones out front—Hollywood abracadabra. What's become of the Police Gazette? John Peter Treaday, the press agent who writes plays and short stories. That expert who came over from Paris to give $50 hair cuts didn't last long.

The handsome white-haired floor walker at Dohs, O., for one of the Victor Herbert-Victor Blossom shows. Sam Schepps, who figured in a celebrated murder trial but now sells rare art. Florence Vidor seems to have gone into obscurity with her marriage. The curb comedians shooting their arrows of contempt.

The blonde Romeo of the air—Rudy Valle. Venerable cabbies who cloy about the Plaza corner like moulting sparrows. The tuxedoed day clerks in the Sherry. Netherland. Helen Mencken's ex-husband, who resembles Valentino. Those vanishing avenue dandies who bestow sweeping bows.

Drug stores displaying signs: "No telephone booths." Wonder if they keep drugs anymore. A soft drink stand called The Last Chance. The barrels of empty grape skins in front of the restaurants in the Porties every morning. That's a clue of some sort or other. Walter Howey, the firebrand of the tabloids.

The new Waldorf Astoria will have twenty floors of fully equipped offices for out-of-town visitors. And, hooray, a Peacock Alley. But will Oscar be there? Irvin Cobb's yellow gloves. The flossy peanut peddler in white uniform and gloves who canvasses Park Avenue.

Master Gabriel, a talented theatrical midget, came back to Broadway recently for a brief stay in the star role of a theatrical drama. It had a Coney Island side show back ground and revealed the pathos of a midget's unrequited love. But what provided a first night novelty was the collection of the star's fellow midgets. They quipped out of taxicabs in full dress, topers and swinging diminutive canes. It was a surprising illustration of how many Lilliputian players there are in the metropolis.

New York has occasional skyscraper suicide epidemics. For some reason they run in threes. Psychologists say they are inspired by suggestion. Some one ends it all in a mad leap from a window or rooftop and those who have been lacking courage read the headlines and are moved to follow suit. These spectacular jumps for some reason are the favorite method of the rich. In 12 months, there is a record of eight wealthy dependents adopting this method.

In Wall street brokerage offices there are bond salesmen who makes sales only by telephone and are hired solely for the appealing quality of their voice. They never see customers. Some of the most terrible mugs have Mayfair accents so appealing lady clients suggest they drop in for tea but they always make excuses. One glance at their paiz and the game would be up.

A theatrical producer pleads: "We would like a quotation from you about our play to use in an advertising folder. We want something quaintly original—a phrase that will make the reader wonder."

All right — Hoot nanny on the hickey!

And another epistolary eulogy observes: "Busy men may not believe they are musically conscious, but that fact is that even for the most prosaic there is always The Big Musical Moment."

And Paul Whiteman, yee, hoo! is mine.

A medical expert writes he never knew an egoist who could make a living. Boy, my Hollywood address book!

Other Editors Say

Misusing The President.

When the people of the United States elect a man to be their president, they put on his shoulders about as heavy a load of responsibilities and duties as any man could be asked to carry.

Obviously, it would be only common sense for the president's fellow-citizens to see to it that he be shielded from needless interruptions in his work.

But it doesn't work out that way. There are times when the president of the United States is simply used to further the private interests of some individual or group of individuals.

The other day the Drury high school band of North Adams, Massachusetts, descended on Washington in a body. The band was a fine group of youngsters. At its head marched a girl drum major; a remarkably pretty girl, resplendent in a spangled and decorated uniform, wearing a towering white shako.

Presently this band came under the wing of Congressman Allen T. Treadway, of Massachusetts. There President Hoover was summoned to the lawn. The band played a bit of music for him; and then the photographers gathered about, and President Hoover stood wearing a patient smile, between Congressman Treadway and the pretty drum major while pictures were taken.

Now all of this is common enough. But it represents the very sort of thing which the president should be spared.

For whose sake was this bit of business done, anyway? For President Hoover's? Not at all. He can hardly have enjoyed having his work interrupted for ten minutes while he listened to a high school band.

Was it done for the sake of the young musicians? Well, it doubtless made them happy and proud and all that; yet they never would have had the nerve to swoon down on the White House by themselves.

We are forced, then, to conclude that the whole show was chiefly for the benefit of the congressman. Surely the high school boys carried back to North Adams glowing accounts of the way Congressman Treadway led them to the very presence of the president. And the pictures, showing the congressman on Mr. Hoover's right hand—they can be depended on to impress the Treadway constituency, too.

The president is too busy a man to be bothered in that way.—Columbus Citizen.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy.

Think of Posterity.

How do you think you will appear in the light of your descendants a hundred years from now?

That is the least of your cares at the present time.

But you can't help having descendants if you are married and have children.

Do you ever think of the time when they will be asking what you were like, where you lived and how you spent your time?

Don't you want to leave pleasant memories and something worth while accomplished?

It is not so much the money that you are able to leave to the next generation—a few generations on they won't know or care whether you had money or not.

But they don't want a legacy of dishonor.

And misdeeds live after—they never die.

You may think that a few escapades more or less won't count in the long run, and you want to live while you live.

But surer than the fact that you are living today will be the stories of the sharpness of your tongue, the lawless bent of your disposition, the cheating of some relative out of rightful share in the estate, if such be true.

Hand down something of which coming generations will be proud. Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

In all pointed sentences some degree of accuracy must be sacrificed to conciseness.—Johnson.

THEA RASCHE PLANS SEA HOP

"Flying Fraulein" Will Attempt Jump to Berlin.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., June 14.—(INS).—Miss Thea Rasche, the "Flying Fraulein" of Germany, plans to start on a trans-Atlantic nonstop flight to Berlin from the beach here within a week or 10 days, according to information received this afternoon.

Miss Rasche was expected here on Monday to begin preparations for the take-off which, it was stated, would be made as soon as weather conditions permit thereafter.

Miss Rasche would take off from the same sands that the trio of French fliers left in their monoplane "Yellow Bird" yesterday on their flight to Paris.

Miss Rasche has been in the United States, on and off for nearly two years planning a trans-Atlantic hop to her native Berlin.

Paris Awaits Heroes

safely, it goes without saying that they will be greeted as conquering heroes, for the French, ever an emotional race, have prayed ever since Lindbergh flew the Atlantic that some daring aviator of French blood might eclipse, or at least equal his magnificent feat.

If all goes well, the "Yellow Bird" and its crew should arrive here late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Three Airmen Popular

The three airmen are exceedingly popular with the French people. Assolant and Lefevre, known as the "kid sergeants" of French aviation, are among France's best pilots. Lotti, son of a wealthy Paris hotel owner, is an amateur pilot. Together the three men have worked for more than a year to make the first French trans-Atlantic flight.

Lotti, who is 33, is the sponsor and financial backer of the attempt. Keeping in the background at first, he purchased the "Yellow Bird," one of the largest European ships, and outfitted it for a flight across the sea from Le Bourget.

Early last September, the expedition was ready. Twice in the early days of the month the three fliers

AKRON MAN HELD ON MURDER COUNT

AKRON, O., June 14.—(INS).—Perry Dorman, 26, was to be arraigned here late today on a charge of murdering James White, 21, White, believed to have been from Piqua, was watchman at the city dump and was found, beaten to death with a stool, in his shack, May 1. White had succeeded Dorman as the watchman.

LIFE SENTENCE REVERSAL ASKED

COLUMBUS, O., June 14.—(INS).—Gilbert Cooper, who admittedly shot and killed Caleb Hitchcock, Greene county fish trapper, February 24, 1928, filed an appeal in the Ohio supreme court today asking reversal of the decree of his home county courts in sentencing him to serve the remainder of his life in the Ohio state penitentiary.

Columbus Court Bailiff Dies.
COLUMBUS, O., June 14.—(INS).—Charles Connors, 53, bailiff in the federal court here for the last four years, and pensioned member of the local fire department, died here today from heart disease. He had been ill for four months, and during that time was replaced by Thomas Williams, U. S. deputy marshal of Delaware.

Veteran Lighthouse Keeper Quits.
SANDUSKY, O., June 14.—(INS).—Frank Ritter, 65, keeper of the government lighthouse at Cedar Point for 37 years, today announced his decision to retire July 1, and notified the U. S. lighthouse bureau at Buffalo accordingly.

Two Councilman Candidates

Mrs. Pansy Hargreaves McDonnell, St. Clair avenue, bookkeeper for the Winland Brothers Lumber company today entered the race for the Republican nomination for clerk of municipal court, opposing A. Earl Edwards, incumbent, who is seeking re-election. Mrs. McDonnell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hargreaves, graduated from the local high school in 1918. She has been employed by the Winland Brothers' company for seven years.

Two more candidates for council, both Republicans, also qualified for the primary race. They are William Newton Layne, Ambrose avenue, Kilmann, who is seeking the Second ward place, and Charles E. Gilbert, potter, of 606 West Ninth street, who is a candidate for Fourth ward representative.

John Stamm, retired pottery manufacturer, filed for the Republican nomination for city treasurer. He will oppose J. G. Strauss, seeking his second term.

made futile attempts to take off from Le Bourget. Their ship was heavily loaded. On September 4, they finally started. Lotti, still keeping in the background, was regarded as a stowaway.

Forced to Resign From Army.
After the take-off, the fliers intended to proceed to New York, but adverse winds drove them south over Spain and they decided to fly to Rio de Janeiro. The winds shifted again, and the airmen were trying to decide whether to make a long flight down the west coast of Africa or to cross to South America, when a leaky oil line forced them down at Casablanca, Morocco.

The belief was expressed here today that if the flight is successful, the French government will probably change its plans about disciplining Assolant and Lefevre. Opposing the flight because of the tremendously heavy load aboard the plane, the French air ministry compelled the two sergeants to resign from the army, but it is felt they will be reinstated if the flight ends successfully.

FLIER'S BRIDE READY TO SAIL

NEW YORK, June 14.—(INS).—The pretty young bride of Jean Assolant, pilot of the "Yellow Bird," was in New York today anxiously awaiting news of the completion of the airplane's hop to Paris from here.

Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Edward L. Parker, of Worcester, Mrs. Assolant, the bride of less than a week, arrived here today. She planned to secure passage aboard the liner Rochembeau and to sail for France to rejoin her husband there. The former Miss Pauline Parker anticipated little delay in obtaining a passport.

Fliers Near Azores

Air experts estimated that Aviator Jean Assolant and his companions could do better than 100 miles an hour and that they might reach Le Bourget field about 1 a. m. Saturday morning, Paris time, or 8 o'clock tonight, New York daylight saving time, if all went well. This was considerably later than the estimated time of their arrival when they hopped off at Old Orchard yesterday morning.

Some fears were expressed in aviation circles as the fliers ability to sustain their flight for this number of hours on the fuel supply with which they began the flight.

The plane carried 1,907 gallons of gasoline mixed with benzol, but at the start the airmen evidently planned to take the shorter trans-Atlantic course. The course via the Azores was viewed here as giving the aviators a possible landing place, either on the Azores or on the Portuguese coast, in case they find their fuel supply running low.

Lotti Receives Message From Son

The Senior Lotti, a wealthy Paris hotel owner, received the message from his ocean-flying son shortly before departing for Le Bourget flying field, the "Yellow Bird's" destination. The corrected bearings place the big monoplane in a much more favorable position than those first given in the message, which placed the plane about 200 miles due north of the Azores, approximately 2,100 miles east of Old Orchard, and 1,500 miles southwest of Paris.

The corrected position places the plane about 500 miles northeast of the Azores and between 1,000 and 1,200 miles southwest of Paris. The difference in the two positions was considered highly important by aviation officials at Le Bourget field, because the corrected bearings place the plane fully 300 miles nearer Paris at an hour when the consumption of motor fuel on the long grind must have considerably depleted the tanks of the plane.

Flight Nearing Termination.
By HOMER H. METZ,
International News Service Aviation Editor.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Another trans-Atlantic flight appeared to be nearing a successful termination as the late hours of morning wore along today.

At 9 a. m. the giant, Paris-bound monoplane, "Yellow Bird," carrying Armeno Lotti, Jean Assolant, Rene Lefevre, and possibly an American stowaway, should have been approximately 740 miles from Le Bourget airport, Paris, or 2,400 miles due east of Old Orchard Beach, Me., where the huge ship made a take-off at 10:08 a. m. yesterday.

At 8 a. m. today (Eastern daylight savings time)—an International News Service cable from Paris stated, the plane passed directly over the Azores, according to Armeno Lotti, sr., who announced he had received a radiogram from his son.

International News Service dispatches indicated that the plane maintained an average speed of 100 miles an hour during the first hours of its flight. It is holds to this pace for the remainder of the hop it should reach Le Bourget about 4 p. m. (Eastern daylight savings time) this afternoon.

Stowaway is Handicap.
Bad weather prevails off the European coast today, but aviation men do not believe that this will seriously hamper the fliers.

Another element—unforeseen when the plane took off yesterday—enters into the situation now, however. This is the case of the young stowaway, Arthur Schreiber of Portland, Me., who is believed to have secreted himself behind a gas tank when the "Yellow Bird" started its flight.

The added weight of the youth may interfere seriously with the operation of the plane if unusually stormy weather is encountered.

Course is Changed.

NEW YORK, June 14.—(INS).—Commander Rollin of the French liner Rochembeau received a wireless direct from the French monoplane "Yellow Bird" this morning. The message read:

"On account of heavy use of gas we are changing our course and going by way of Azores and Portugal coast." The message was received by Commander Rollin at 12:30, Greenwich mean time or 7:30 a. m. Eastern Standard time.

A YOUNG prince, cousin of the Spanish king, one of the Bourbons, is said to have canceled his engagement to the widow of an American steel king.

The young lady, charming in all ways, and very young for fifty, was not willing to settle more than $200,000 on the young prince.

That gentleman of a family that "never forgets anything and never learns anything" does not forget that he cannot live now on $200,000.

A T A cost of $9,740,000, a new building will house the United States supreme court "in keeping with the dignity of that tribunal."

OLD-FASHIONED judges might think it hard to spend ten million dollars on a building, without upsetting one important supreme court tradition, which is democratic simplicity.

It is to be hoped that fancy imitations of European ceilings and other excessive ornamentation will be missing when the building is finished. The supreme court requires no "fancy" background.

TRAGEDY WIPES OUT OHIO FAMILY

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 14.—(INS).—A father and a 14-year-old daughter were drowned in the Ohio river here late yesterday afternoon.

With the dual tragedy the entire family was wiped out. The mother died about a year ago.

Those who drowned yesterday were Harvey Lacey, 49, a barber, and his daughter, Opal.

The man had taken the girl down to the river to wade. She went beyond her depth and was drowned. Her father jumping into the river in a vain effort to save his child was also claimed by the murky waters.

Bodies of the two were recovered within 10 minutes, but attempts at resuscitation failed.

LINDY SIGHTS "YELLOW BIRD"

STAR ISLAND, N. H., June 14.—(INS).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, sighted aboard their power cruiser Mouette off here today, were believed to have seen the trans-Atlantic "Yellow Bird" fly away from the Maine coast for Paris in an attempt to span the ocean somewhat as did "The Lone Eagle."

The Mouette took on gasoline and supplies at Cape Porpoise, near Kennebunkport, yesterday afternoon on their way down the Maine coast on their honeymoon cruise from New York to above the island of North Haven and return.

HEINZ PICNIC PLANNED AT PARK

Members of the picnic committee and officials of the H. J. Heinz company, Pittsburgh, will visit Chester tonight for a conference with C. C. MacDonald, manager of Rock Springs park, regarding the Heinz employees' outing which will be held on Saturday, July 13.

The visitors will be supper guests at The Green Lantern at 6:30 o'clock. Seven excursion trains of 12 coaches each have been chartered to bring the Heinz picnicers to the West Virginia park.

TWO OHIOANS END OWN LIVES

COLUMBUS, O., June 14.—(INS).—Two men, aged 75 and 69, are dead here today, victims of their own hands.

John Coulter, 75, shot and killed himself in a vacant lot near his home. Lafayette Frost, 69, ended his life by hanging himself.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY PLANNED

Nazarene Pastor to Conduct Services in Public Square.

The Rev. John Stewart, pastor of the Nazarene church here, today announced completion of arrangements for the children's Sunday school rally Sunday morning in the public square.

Children from this city, Hillcrest, the Jefferson county home and the Kountz avenue Sunday school will march in the parade from the Mission, Third and Main streets, to the square, headed by Mayor W. L. Fogo, Chief of Police John Fultz, J. R. Rutherford, superintendent of the home, Robert Long, superintendent of the Nazarene Sunday school, Major Joseph Hughes of the Salvation army, the Rev. James Rogers, visiting evangelist, Arthur and Frank Cooper, the musicians, the Rev. Victor Sizer, Fire Chief Charles Hanlon and Service-safety Director G. B. Imbrie.

Candy will be distributed to the children at the mission. The Salvation army band will lead the parade. Miss Hilda Hendricks of Kountz avenue will be pianist for the services.

Meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the square, followed by divine healing services.

Preaching at all services will be in charge of the Rev. James Rogers.

WILL OBSERVE CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's day will be observed Sunday in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church. The program will consist of a pageant, music and recitation.

An offering will be received for Sunday school missions. Sunday school will meet at 10 a. m. The Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor, will preach at services at 8 p. m., preceded by young people's service at 7:30. The subject will be "The Price of Voluntary Christian Service." Mrs. Nancy Williams and Mrs. W. E. McIntosh will be the leaders.

Summer communion services at the church will be held Sunday, June 23, at 11 a. m. Preparatory services will be held every night next week, excepting Saturday, beginning at 8 p. m. The Rev. Harold P. Post, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will preach Monday and Tuesday nights and the Rev. Mahlon H. Woolf of Minerva Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

CLEVELAND BOY KILLED BY CHUM

CLEVELAND, June 14.—(INS).—Andrew Zelinka, 13, is dead today, having been killed when he was accidentally shot through the head with a .22 caliber rifle by a playmate. The boy with the rifle had been shooting frogs and birds, he told police, and seeing some bushes move, shot into them thinking the motion was caused by a bird. He carried Zelinka to the top of a steep embankment and the boy was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Besides her mother and step-father, she leaves one brother, Joseph, and a sister, Mary.
Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the St. Aloysius Catholic church, in charge of the Rev. Father Thomas E. Walsh. Burial will be made in St. Aloysius cemetery.

Prays for Stowaway

reiber had won the toss of the coin, but Clark thought the extra weight would be too much, he said.

Sends Letter To Parents.
"When the plane was ready to go I rapped near the tail and a rap came back showing that Schreiber was aboard at the take-off," said Clark.

Others also told of seeing Schreiber stowaway in the Yellow Bird. Later Clark called up Schreiber's parents on the telephone and last night Schreiber's parents received this letter from their son:

"Dear Parents—I am attempting to go across on the airship Green Flash. If I succeed in getting on do not worry for me. I am doing this thing of my own accord, and was not influenced by any one and wish no one to be held responsible for the consequences."

"I am doing it because I know that if I succeed, I can do much for your happiness."

"Please do not think bad of me. I will cable you if I arrive in Rome. I am constantly thinking of you. Love, Arthur."

Speaks Six Languages.
Schreiber is a linguist, speaking English, French, Spanish, Italian, German and Hungarian.

Schreiber has a brother who was once in the air service. The youth himself is a graduate of Portland high school. A few months ago he coached a musical production for the Portland Young Men's Hebrew association.

When he went away young Schreiber wore leather puttees, khaki riding breeches, a leather jacket and a leather helmet tucked inside his jacket.

SCOTCHMAN DOWNS AMERICAN GOLFER

SANDWICH, England, June 14.—(INS).—America's hopes in the British amateur championship went aglimmering today when Johnny Dawson of Chicago was eliminated in the semifinals by the Scotchman John Smith.

FARM BILL MOVES NEAR ENACTMENT

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(INS).—President Hoover's farm relief program encountered clear sailing today after the storms of the last weeks, and progressed swiftly toward final enactment.

The house and senate conferees met this morning, speedily agreed to knock out the debenture plan, following its overwhelming defeat in the house yesterday, and shortly thereafter the house formally adopted the debenture-less report without a dissenting vote.

There was no debate, no opposition, and no roll call.

NEXT SUNDAY "FATHERS DAY"

Homage Will be Paid Dad; Services in Churches.

"Father's day," a movement launched six years ago by Mrs. John B. Dodd, of Spokane, Washington, will be observed in East Liverpool and many other parts of the United States Sunday.

Just as mothers are honored on "Mother's day," each year so father will be remembered by his family on "Father's day." Started in 1923 in one city, the observance this year has taken on a nation-wide aspect.

The date for its observance in its earlier days was as much confused as Washington's birthday but now that the difficulties have been straightened out, dad can look forward to the third Sunday in June as being the one for the certainty of his homage.

Father's day ceremonies are simple and similar to those of Mother's day. In keeping with the increasing fervor with which the day is observed churches will hold special services and families will show father in many ways what he really means to them. Appropriate gifts and remembrance cards will be showered upon him.

FIGHTER CHOKES ON ADAM'S APPLE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 14.—(INS).—Adam swallowed the apple and suffered therefore, but not, according to holy writ, so painfully as an Oklahoma City man who nearly repeated the performance.

It was Adam's apple that sent J. D. Cox to a hospital and nearly choked him to death.

His antagonist in a street fight flicked the bony protuberance in Cox's neck and it retreated several inches down his esophagus. Doctors said today that Cox will recover.

New Way to End Perspiration Odor

Nothing destroys your charm like perspiration odor. You may not even notice any odor, but others do.

Don't risk giving offense. Use Kora Konia—the soothing deodorant. A remarkable new powder discovered by Mennen—producers of the finest shaving creams, talcums and baby powders. It neutralizes perspiration acids and prevents odor. Regular application keeps you free from odor all day and evening.

Kora Konia also absorbs excess perspiration, avoids unsightly moisture, thus preventing injury to garments. Soothes and heals raw, rubbed skin. Stops the burning and itching.

Don't have perspiration odor—the unforgivable social error. Get Kora Konia from druggist today. Use liberally and frequently wherever there is perspiration or raw, rubbed skin. Use on sanitary pad. Apply to feet to keep perspiration from ruining hose.—Adv.

Panhandle Railroad Picnic On Saturday

Three Trains Will Carry Pittsburgh, Columbus And Dennison Workers To Rock Springs.

CHESTER, W. Va., June 14.—Panhandle railroad employees from Pittsburgh, Columbus and Dennison will hold their annual outing at Rock Springs park tomorrow. Three special trains of 10 coaches each will carry the picnickers to the resort.

This will be the third Rock Springs trip for the railroaders. Because of inability to secure trains, boat transportation was used for two outings. General Superintendent and Mrs. Herbert of Pittsburgh and other railroad officials will attend the picnic.

There will be dancing at Virginia Gardens afternoon and night. Music at night will be in charge of the Buckeye Serenaders.

Members of the DeMolay from the tri-state district will entertain with a dance at the park tonight. "Jimmy" Woods and his Collegians of Alliance will play.

Whitney Kaufman, noted orchestra leader, who was married to Miss Edith L. H. Chadwick of Brownsville, Pa., in Pittsburgh, Wednesday, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Macdonald, at Rock Springs Park, Wednesday night. Kaufman reached the park during an intermission in Emerson Gill's dance program and he and his bride were introduced to the audience, after which Kaufman directed the orchestra in one selection. The bridal party left yesterday for Canada. Manager Macdonald is arranging to bring Kaufman's orchestra to the park later in the season.

CLIFFORD A. BOUGH, JR., GIVES DINNER IN HONOR OF CLASS FRIEND

SUMMER FLOWERS DECORATED the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bough, East Fifth street, last night, when their son, Clifford A. Bough, Jr., a student at the University of Illinois, entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner party in honor of his school friend, John Landsen of Taylor, Ill. Covers were arranged for 20.

Mrs. Bough was assisted in receiving the guests by her sister, Mrs. J. N. Vodrey.

The after-dinner hours were spent with progressive bridge. Honors were awarded Miss Helen Moore of Sunbury, Pa., and John Landsen of Taylor, Ill., who were guests.

A swimming party was held later at the Country club pool.

C. A. Bough, Jr., Robert Vodrey and John Landsen left today by motor for Princeton, White Plains and other eastern cities, where they will spend a two weeks' vacation.

Tsugami Club Attends Theater. Tsugami club members held a theater party last night, after which refreshments were served in a tea room. Those attending were: Mesdames Harold Benty, Charles Watson, Alva Marshall, Harry Price, Thomas Clark, Raymond Clark, Homer Risinger, Ray McShane, Robert Smith, Andrew Walters, Dorothy Kountz, Georgia Mase and Louis Provost.

P. H. C. Holds Card Party.

Ten tables of 500 were in play Wednesday night when Stratton circle, No. 40, Protected Home Circle, entertained in the Moose temple, Fourth street. Honors were awarded Miss Mildred Gilson, Mrs. J. C. Collins, William Stanley and Oscar Gilson.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames William Prescott, George Gopfert and Messrs. Grover Jackson and Clei Kennedy.

Mrs. Mary Sinclair Entertains.

Mrs. Mary Sinclair entertained members of the Seattle club at the Green Lantern inn, Rock Springs park, last night.

Refreshments were served for 22. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Arch Trudell, Mesdames Fred Haney, Mary Fynn and Emmett Buckley and daughter, Mary.

The next meeting will be held June 27, at the home of Mrs. Ida Burgess, Blakeley street.

Ruth Ann Club Entertained.

Music and contests featured the meeting of the Ruth Ann club last night, when Miss Dora White entertained in the home of Mrs. H. A. Means, Armstrong lane. Honors for a contest were awarded Mrs. Anna Stanley and Miss Ruth Means.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Means.

Guests were: Mrs. Adda Wilkes and Mrs. Letitia Means.

On June 27, the club will meet with Mrs. George Cook, River avenue, Chester.

Graduate From Campion College.

Benefit Motion Picture Show Tonight.

Motion pictures will be shown in the Sheridan Avenue African Methodist Episcopal church tonight at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the church fund.

D. of A. Session Tonight.

Pride of Valley Council No. 4, Daughters of America, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Pottery hall, when a class of candidates will be initiated.

Miss Simmers Awarded Trophy.

Miss Frances Simmers won the trophy presented by Miss Anna L. Wolfe in the 18-hole flag tournament on the East Liverpool Country club golf course Wednesday. Next Wednesday two tournaments will be featured, a nine-hole match play against bogey, with three quarters handicap, the trophy to be presented by Mrs. C. C. Davidson, and an 18-hole match play against bogey, three quarters handicap, the trophy to be presented by Mrs. C. A. Bough.

McClure-Scott Wedding.

Miss Anna McClure became the bride of J. Edward Scott on Wednesday in the parsonage of the Lisbon Presbyterian church. The Rev. Jarvis M. Cotton officiated. The attendants were the bride's mother, Mrs. Bortha McClure of East Lane, and William T. Dunn.

The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Scott of Mechanicstown, is employed by the Crucible Steel company in Midland, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott will live with the bride's mother.

Luncheon-Bridge at Metsch Home.

The second of a series of luncheon-bridge parties was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cassius M. Metsch, Elysian Way. The small tables were decorated with summer flowers. Nine tables were in play. Honors were awarded Mrs. J. N. Porter and Mrs. Christian G. Metsch.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Edward McDonnell of Steubenville, and daughter, Mrs. Helen McDonnell Mangin of Long Island; Mrs. A. G. Mason and Mrs. Charles Wright of Lisbon.

Mrs. Metsch will receive again today.

Club Members Dinner Guests.

A 6 o'clock dinner was held by members of the Laff-A-Lot club last night at the Green Lantern inn, Rock Springs park. The after-dinner hours were spent with music, dancing and a guessing contest, which was won by Mesdames William VanFossan, William Winters and Charles Fowler.

A shower was given in honor of Mrs. Ruth Haudenschilt, who will leave on June 23 to make her home in Newark, O.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. William Winters, Washington street.

Mack men Setting Hot Pace

A's Smack 46 Four-base Blows to Lead Yankees.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Murderers' row is playing second fiddle today. For the world's champion Yankees, whose home-run hitting has broken up many a close game, no longer lead the American league in circuit clouts. Homers by Haas and Dykes yesterday enabled the Athletics to pass the Yanks in this specialty, the totals for the season being Philadelphia 46, New York 45. Last season's totals were New York 133, Philadelphia 89.

Ed Rommel twirled the A's to their fourth straight win yesterday, Cleveland being the victim by a 10 to 3 count. Cochrane collected four hits and Averill duffed for the Indians. The Mackian maulers have copped 23 or their last 26 games.

The Yanks also opened their series with Detroit auspiciously, beating the Tigers, 8 to 5, for their ninth triumph in their last 12 starts. Eddie Wells outpitched his former team mate, Earl Whitehill.

Donie Bush's game Pirates, who have come from behind to win their last three starts in the late innings with great battle rallies, outscored the Giants again, 11 to 7. Ott of the Giants hit his thirteenth homer in the second inning, when each team scored five runs.

The Pirates gained ground in the league race, as the Cardinals were idle and the scoreless tie between the Cubs and Phillies was halted by rain after five innings.

Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn's hurling ace, starting his first game in four weeks, gained a 2 to 1 decision over Ray Kulp of Cincinnati.

Milt Gaston of the Red Sox chalked up his fourth straight victory in trimming the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1.

A tenth-inning rally enabled the White Sox to take an 11 to 8 slugfest from the Senators and break their losing streak.

MAXIE IS CONFIDENT

Max Schmeling, the "German Jack Dempsey," and (inset) Paulino Uzcudun, are shown here as they train for their bout week after next. The rival heavyweights will top the card being prepared for the New York milk fund benefit. Schmeling expresses confidence that he'll "take" the bounding Basque.

By Davis J. Walsh.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 14.—"In order to fly, the housefly must open his wings. In order to hit, Paulino must open his arms. If he doesn't, he will lose, for a man can't win a fight without hitting. If he does open his arms, he will lose, anyhow, for then I will hit him."

Simple, isn't it? The Herr Schmeling thinks it is and, after listening to him propound some views today on the milk fund's semi-final of the heavyweight championship series, 13 days hence, one is inclined to believe that what he happens to think might be right. He's nobody's chump. This German, and apparently he hits and thinks in the same direction—straight.

It takes straight thinking for a German to taboo beer. He says he does not know what it tastes like. He served wine to his guests at the table today but poured none for himself. He never drinks, in training or out. He ordered cigarettes for the company, adding, in a semi-apologetic tone that he never has smoked. Feminine society, it seems, doesn't intrigue him, so the assumption is that he has allowed himself no major interests outside the ring.

This is an idea that can be termed somewhat "un-dumb," meaning not. Even a poor fighter, with the single-purpose complex, might beat good fighter whose purposes are many.

He was smart enough, too, to be a good listener when the guest-conductor of his managerial staff, Joe Jacobs, eased his soul of the rather startling declaration that, if Schmeling wins and the New York Boxing commission insists on a Phil Scott fight after the Paulino meeting, Schmeling will return to Germany and meet Tom Heeney instead of going through with a title fight in September against Jack Sharkey.

"He'll keep," added Mr. Jacobs, meaning that Schmeling could wait until next year for his championship shot. He didn't add that Schmeling will "keep" indefinitely if he doesn't beat Paulino. Mr. Jacobs isn't paid to think those kind of thoughts.

BUCK RALLY TOPPLES M'GRAWMEN

Pirates Cop Second From Giants in Slugging Bee.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—Hard hitting by Sheely, Grantham, Traynor and Lloyd Waner enabled the Pirates to come from behind and defeat the Giants, 11 to 7, here yesterday after spotting the visitors six runs in the first two innings.

The Giants scored five times in the second, when Melvin Ott capped a rally with his thirteenth home run with two on, but the Pirates came back with an equal number in their own half.

Walker had permitted one run and had filled the bases when Carl Mays relieved him. Hemsley greeted Mays with a triple, and the Buccaneers were back in the game. Traynor commanded the Pirate attack with a double and two triples.

Hill got credit for the victory which Swetonic saved, and the loss was charged to Genewich.

.. On The Sport Jigger ..

By the Sports Editor

HARDLY more than a kid in years but possessing far more skill than the average veteran mauler in his division, rugged, thick skinned and, apparently, able to take the jolts as well as give them, Mexican Dick Ramies, the welterweight, should go far in his division.

Last night Ramies won from Young Rudy, Pittsburgh favorite, at Junction park, in one of the "fightingest" scraps that Beaver valley fans have been privileged to witness for years. The bout was the first offering of the recently organized Junction park boxing club, backed by Beaver valley business men and from every angle it can be considered a success. Between 50 and 75 East Liverpool boxing followers attended.

Ramies gave Rudy one of the worst beatings that Mason's protegee probably has ever suffered. The Mexican did not put the rugged Pittsburgh lad away for the count although a knockout would have been more merciful.

Rudy could have slumped to the canvas and quit anytime from the fifth round on and it would have been a good fight. But Rudy is not built from that mould. And for that reason his exhibition of gameness drew just as much favorable comment as did Ramies' show of punch and boxing skill.

Ramies floored Rudy no less than eight times. Rudy took nine in the sixth, again in the eighth, once more in the ninth and twice in the tenth. On two occasions Mason's boy was down for lesser counts and once Ramies dropped Rudy and the latter went slithering through the ropes just as the bell rang to end the round, saving a count.

Wisdom is the better part of valor in many instances and in this connection the smart fighter always takes his nine when he visits the canvas, regardless of whether he's badly injured or not. But Rudy is not a nine-counter. Consequently his prolonged stays on the boards bespeaks the effectiveness of Ramies' punches.

And there is no question that Rudy actually needed the full nine to shake the cobwebs from his befogged brain and wriggle to his feet on one occasion near the close of the fight.

What developed into one of the greatest fights of the season in the district came within an ace of being stopped in the first round when Rudy claimed a low punch.

Referee Henderson waved him to his corner for a brief rest and then warfare was resumed, Rudy showing no effects of the blow.

Ramies, it can't be denied, has a habit of hitting low, unintentionally of course. But, nevertheless, a low blow is a low blow regardless of the motive. He hit Zivic low at Canton but Jack paid no attention to it.

Rudy's friends may claim that his fight with Teddy Welch at Butler two nights before had taken the edge off his form. It might have had an effect, at that, but it is doubtful if Rudy at his best, if he wasn't last night, could do more against the Mex than he did.

The Junction park promoters are contemplating the erection of a bowl at the park. For guaranteed action and appeal, they could not pick anything better than a return match between Jack Zivic and Dick Ramies.

Fight Results

AT NEWARK, N. J.—Bud Gorman, Summit, N. J., heavyweight, scored technical knockout over James J. Lawless, of Harrison, N. J. (7).

George Smith, of Newark, won decision over Leo Mitchell, Los Angeles light-heavyweight (10).

Willie Bertam, of Orange, N. J., knocked out Stanley Roskey, Toledo, Ohio, heavyweight (1).

AT NEW BRIGHTON, Pa.—Dick Ramies, Santiago, Cal., won from Young Rudy, Pittsburgh, 10 rounds.

Eddie Anderson, Washington, won from Joe Todd, Donora, six.

Lou Sanders, Beaver Falls, won from Young Smackey, Canonsburg, six.

Jack King, Wampum, won from Ted Yarusz, Monaca, four.

Nate Liffin, Pittsburgh, knocked out Dick Malone, Wellsville, in final round of scheduled four.

BEAT INDIANS

Events are beginning to look interesting in the American association pennant race, not because of what has happened, but because of what might occur.

The percentage column tells the news so in view of that the whole list will be set down:

Kansas City .700; Minneapolis .673;

St. Paul .564; Indianapolis .472;

Louisville .460; Milwaukee .385; Columbus .382; and Toledo .367.

Kansas City took Indianapolis for a ride and at the end of the nine innings the score was 6 to 1. Indianapolis, at one time considered a safe fourth, isn't so sure of that position now.

Louisville lost both ends of a double-header to Milwaukee by 3 to 5 and 2 to 3 scores. It was a surprise to even the beer boys. Though Louisville is fifth now, most anything is liable to happen to that team, and as for Milwaukee, it must break into a winning streak to keep its prestige.

Columbus pulled a fast one over St. Paul by taking a nine-inning affair by

St. Louis Man Invents New Washing Machine

A simple new kind of washing machine has just been invented. It has no motors or moving parts, yet it is just as efficient as machines costing $100. This new machine simply sets in any ordinary boiler and automatically cleans and sterilizes an entire washing in about 20 minutes. No rubbing or strong soap or lye is required. It has been tested and approved by leading engineers. This new machine costs no more than a pair of shoes. The Preston Manufacturing Co., Dept. 288, St. Louis, Mo., are offering to send one of these new washing machines on free trial to one person in each locality. They also want agents and spare time workers. Write them at once for free booklet and complete details.—Advertisement.

WOVEN FURNITURE

PUT COLOR IN YOUR HOME

Put color into your home and you put joy into your heart, for you simply can't have furniture like this around without feeling better for it, much better.

Its economy, too, as well as its great decorative value, is another reason why so many homes are replacing their "ruins" with this cheer-giving furniture.

The Magic of Color!

Color, perfectly handled as you find it in this exquisite woven furniture, takes a tired and dreary-looking home or room and transforms it into a glowing, sparkling, enchanting place to live.
And color in the home does the same thing to tired and dreary spirits. Come on, live; be alive, do things, enjoy yourselves, it says to you. Maybe you and your home are just starved for color.
Then don't let this opportunity pass.

SHELL MOTOR OIL WEEK
June 16-22, Inclusive
"Ask the Shell Man"

Here's the way to whip carbon

YOU have been fighting carbon ever since you drove your first car. You have probably come to accept carbon as a necessary evil . . . to consider frequent carbon removal and valve grinding jobs as unavoidable.

But thousands of owners of automobiles don't think so. They have found a way to get rid of the carbon complex. They have discovered that they can whip carbon with Shell Motor Oil.

Shell Motor Oil forms very little carbon. And what there is, is soot-like, fluffy and non-fouling. It readily blows out with the exhaust gases.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil declare that this soft, sooty carbon does not foul spark plugs, choke ignition or pile up on piston heads. They find that it does not bake on valve seats or get in around piston rings, causing loss of power. They are not bothered by the danger of abrasive carbon particles in the crankcase with the lubricating oil.

To the man who asks
for oil by name, we say:
"Try Shell for 30 days"

To the man who asks for oil by name knows that there is a difference in oils.
It won't be difficult for him to notice the quicker pickup, greater power and better all-round performance of an automobile with Shell in the crankcase.

Shell 400 "Extra Dry" Gasoline . . . means "More Power to You" . . . Ought to cost more, but it doesn't.

has the 4 essentials of complete and proper lubrication

STANLEY BOWEN FLEES TO OHIO*Police Find no Trace Of County Jail Fugitive.

NEWELL, W. Va., June 14.—Police today had no clue to the whereabouts of Stanley Bowen, of Harrison street, who escaped from Constable John Talbot while being taken to the county jail to serve a sentence of six months and a $100 fine, imposed by Justice John A. Myler on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Bowen made his getaway by jumping from Talbot's automobile while the driver was shifting gears in ascending a hill near Congo. Two shots fired in the air by the constable failed to halt the fugitive, who, it is believed, fled into Ohio.

Under the new state motor code, Bowen's automobile driving license is automatically suspended for one year.

Spent Hundreds of Dollars In Vain Till 'Orange Root' Came

Mr. Paul Bailey Says Had He Known of "ORANGE ROOT" Years Ago He Would Have Been Saved Much Suffering With Stubborn Case of Kidney Trouble Which Almost Made a Physical Wreck of Him.

Mr. Paul Bailey of 6th street, East Liverpool, Ohio, the well-known mechanic, having suffered for years with an obstinate case of kidney trouble, took 3 bottles of ORANGE ROOT and here is what he says:

"For years I have suffered intense pain with my kidneys. They became in such bad shape that my whole system was poisoned. My back ached constantly, and my strength left me entirely. In fact, I was almost a complete wreck, for everything I had ever taken failed to benefit me in any way. At times I was unable to walk or straighten up and when in bed I could not even turn over without suffering terrible pain. I have spent hundreds of dollars in search of relief but found nothing till I started taking ORANGE ROOT. To my surprise after taking 3 bottles of it and few of those golden Nuggets, I AM A WELL MAN. How can I ever express my gratitude to ORANGE ROOT the medicine I always needed had I known of it years ago; it would have saved me all my suffering and all that I spent in a vain search for relief. I would like all the world to know of its success in my stubborn case. The golden Nuggets are wonderful liver regulators and have freed me of chronic constipation. I feel a great debt of gratitude to these great Orange Root remedies for they have made a well and happy man of me." If you suffer as Mr. Bailey did, or have indigestion, rheumatism, neuritis or bad blood, weak and underweight, go at once to MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE, get a course of this wonder Tonic and Nuggets, take them according to directions, and you too, will soon join that vast army of healthy, happy Orange Root boosters. It has benefited hundreds of thousands from all sections of the nation, and will do the same for you. Prices Tonic $1.25, Nuggets 50c. All leading drug stores in nearby towns stock and sell great quantities of these famous Health-Restorers. Take them TODAY and GET WELL.

EIGHT TRACTS OF LAND CONDEMNED FOR NEW HIGHWAY AT CALCUTTA

Route Sought For Cut-Of East Liverpool-East Palestine Road.

LISBON, O., June 14.—Eight tracts of land have been condemned in St. Clair township in order to obtain a new route for the East Liverpool-East Palestine road at Calcutta.

Several surveys were made to obtain a location for the connecting road, and two hearings have been held by the county commissioners. Excessive damage claims were filed at the first hearing, and the tracts condemned include property sought by the county at the first hearing.

The new cut-off will tap the present Calcutta road north of the Calcutta school house, then swing to the east and north to connect with the new concrete highway now being poured in St. Clair township south of Fredericktown. The contract will be awarded at Columbus June 29.

The Laughlin Coal & Supply company of Canton has completed half of the surfacing of the St. Clair township highway.

Rush Clarkson-Rogers Job. Lewis & Copeland of Lima, have finished the concrete section of the East Liverpool-East Palestine road in Middleburg township, and are now completing the guard rail and berms on the Negley section.

At Negley, Herman C. Armstrong of Lisbon has started excavating for the concrete bridge that is to span Bull creek on this highway. This bridge is to be 150 feet in length, and will be in a new location. The present one-way iron bridge will remain open to traffic until the new structure is completed.

Armstrong is making good progress on the grading and construction of drainage structures on the Westville-North Georgetown road. One concrete bridge has been finished, and foundations have been finished on two others.

Resurfacing of the Clarkson-Rogers road is about completed. This contract was awarded to Lewis & Copeland. This is a secondary road. There is now a concrete highway between Clarkson and the East Liverpool-Youngstown road.

Preliminary work is also being done by Lewis & Copeland on the New Waterford-East Palestine road, and the first material will be spread this week. When finished, there will be a smooth highway between the two places, the highway passing Fence Valley park, where the last covered bridge in the county was razed two years ago.

Lisbon-Elkton Concrete Poured. Allison-Harris Construction company, of East Liverpool, started pouring concrete on the Rogers-Negley road Thursday. About five miles will be surfaced. The road was graded last year.

First concrete on the Lisbon-Elkton No. 7 road was also poured Thursday by George B. Patterson of Wellsville. Approximately five miles of concrete will be poured, and the project is expected to be finished within 50 working days. All materials are being unloaded at Elkton and trucked to the job.

The state highway department has announced that bids will be opened at Columbus, June 29, for the construction of the concrete bridge to span Beaver Creek at Fredericktown on the East Liverpool-East Palestine road.

The Hurd Construction company, of Canton, has completed 50 percent of the paving of the Route 100 (County Line) road. This same firm has the contract for the surfacing of the North Georgetown road, and as soon as the first project is completed, equipment and labor will be transferred to the second contract.

View California Hollow Road Site. Ben F. Francis of East Palestine has completed about 50 per cent of the grading on the Wellsville-Oak Grove-Glenmoor road in Liverpool and St. Clair townships. The project was awarded by the township trustees. Dwight W. Leggett, division engineer, with headquarters at Ravenna, was in Columbiana county this week for the purpose of inspecting the new concrete bridge over Little Yellow creek on the East Liverpool-Wellsville road.

M. W. Wilbur, federal highway engineer, with offices at Columbus, and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk viewed plans and the site for the California Hollow section B-2 of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road. It has not been finally determined whether this project will be included in the state letting at Columbus, June 29.

M. P. BAILEY GETS HARVARD DIPLOMA

Marshall P. Bailey, a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Bailey of 347 Lincoln avenue, Salem, graduated from Harvard this week in music technique, and received his A. M. degree. He made a special study of the pipe organ after his graduation from the Lisbon high school.

Before entering Harvard he taught at Whittier college, Springfield. He plans to spend the summer at the home of his parents.

$5,000 ASKED IN BUS CRASH

Through her counsel, George T. Farrell, of Lisbon, Hanna Robinson has filed a $5,000 damage action in common pleas court against the Ward Baking company, with principal offices at Youngstown, as an aftermath of a crash on Dec. 6, 1926, between the company's truck and a bus in which she was a passenger. The collision occurred in the Lisbon-Salem road.

Hands Unseen

New Mystery Story of "Gray Phantom,"

Loveable Outlaw.

By Herman Landon

Copyright by Street and Smith Corporation.

The authorship of the society's publications was veiled in anonymity, so the public at large had no inkling of the fact that most of them were the product of the facile pen of one Clifford Wade, a mountainous individual with a pudgy, good-humored face and a triple chin, who carried his enormous bulk through life with a sort of triumphant martyrdom. Wade's antecedents were as obscure as those of the other promoters of Law and Order, Inc., and he had a set of engaging qualities that effectually forestalled any idle inquiries into his past.

To all appearances he was the active head of the organization; at any rate, he was the only one of the executives whom casual callers were permitted to interview.

Late one afternoon toward the end of March, Wade gathered a few typewritten sheets from his desk, stepped out of his plainly furnished office on the fifth floor, and climbed heavily to the attic. Puffing hard, he delivered three measured raps on a door.

"Come in," said a deep, quick voice.

Wade entered and carefully closed the door behind him. The room, having a single dormer window, looked as if it had been furnished recently and in haste, and its appointments suggested that it served its occupant both as office and living quarters. Except for a bunch of daphne in a plain glass vase on the table, it had evidently been arranged with an eye solely to practical things.

The occupant of the room had risen at Wade's entrance. For a moment he stood erect, a marked tenseness in his manner, a trace of habitual caution in the glance he leveled at the door. The shaded extension lamp on the table illuminated only a narrow space, leaving his face in shadow. Seeing the newcomer's squat features, flushed from the exertion of climbing a steep stairway, he relaxed and resumed his seat.

"Oh, you, Wade," he said quietly, yet with the strained undertone characteristic of one who is constantly holding himself in leash. "Anything up?"

Wade tossed the typewritten sheets on the table and eased his generous bulk into an armchair. There was about him a jauntiness and a sleekness of apparel that clashed ludicrously with his corpulence.

"Lamp that, boss," he said, with a faint show of pride, indicating the manuscript. "Just finished it. I've called it 'Down With the Bootlegger!' Tell me if you don't think it's a knockout."

The other man picked up the first sheet and ran a languid eye over the opening paragraphs. Even when in repose, as at present, his slightest movements indicated an unremitting vigilance, a constant readiness for action if the need should arise. The nostrils, fine and sensitive, seemed always on the alert for stray scents. The deep gray eyes, never quite at rest, had a hunted look, the lurking reflection of distrust and warning characteristic of a man who has lived among perils. About the mold of the lips there was a faint suggestion of the dreamer, but there was also a touch of grimness, an unyielding, flintlike quality, and the whole denoted a life of boundless aggressiveness colored by a whimsical strain of humor. As he sat before the heavily shaded lamp, with shadows all around, his personality gave forth a suggestion of gray elusiveness that was carried out in the flashing gray eyes, the iron-gray at his temple, even in the suit of neutral gray he wore.

His eyes as he looked up showed signs of severe strain and sleepless nights, but a faint smile played about his lips.

"What puzzles me about you, Wade," he said slowly, "is that you talk like a roughneck but write like a college professor. What's your grievance against the bootleggers?"

"Nothing in particular," said the fat man, "but we've got to keep up the bluff. Makes a fellow dry to turn out that kind of stuff, boss. Wish I had some of the bubble water that was gizzled in this joint in the good old days." He licked his lips with a longing expression, but in a moment his face sobered. "Look here, boss, I've come to give you some straight talk."

The other looked a trifle bored.

"It's like this, boss. A month ago, when we raked the old gang together and started getting ready for big-time stuff, I thought The Gray Phantom was coming back with bells on. It promised to be just like the old days, before you fell for the cutie with the heavenly hair and the seventy-five candlepower eyes. Wish I had your luck with the fair ones, boss. I would—"

"Wade!" The interruption came in a low, quiet tone, but there was suppressed thunder in it. Wade stopped short, gaping ludicrously as he saw the effect of his banter. There was a menacing glint in the other's eyes.

"Forgive me, boss," said the fat man awkwardly. "Didn't mean any offense. That fool tongue of mine is always three jumps ahead of my brain."

"Learn to hold it in check," said the other curtly. Then his face softened a little. "Oh, it's all right. I know your heart is in the right place, you lumbering old hippo. What's worrying you, Wade?"

The fat man regarded him doubtfully out of his small, eager eyes, marooned in layers of flesh. He spoke half reproachfully: "Several things are worrying me, boss. One of them is this dull and quiet life. You might give me a chance to work off some of this fat."

"You are doing your share. You got our old crowd together and put new blood into it. To handle such a big organization we had to have a headquarters, a safe place where the police wouldn't be likely to disturb us. You found this ideal location, and to make us doubly safe and secure against intrusion, you drew a cloak of respectability over us. This law and order society was your invention. I didn't give a thought to that side of the matter because I knew I could rely on you. You are doing enough. What are you fretting about?"

Wade contemplated his pudgy and expertly manicured fingertips.

"But it isn't getting us anywhere," he complained. "Always knew you would get back into the game sooner or later, but I didn't think it would be this way. For three years you and I lay low out at Sea Glimpse. No excitement at all, except a few times when your old enemies tried to do you dirt. You spent most of the time in the gardens, poking seeds into the ground and mooning about a girl. I didn't like it, boss, but I didn't say much. Felt pretty sure The Gray Phantom would cut loose again before long. Honest to goodness, boss, the only thing that kept me alive during those three years was the hope that you and I would go back to he-man stuff some day. Well, the day has come, but it isn't what I expected."

Trouble Ahead

"What's the trouble, Wade?" The fat man looked wistfully into space. "Don't know as I can make it clear. Remember the old days, when people used to feel as if an earthquake had struck down every time The Gray Phantom's name was mentioned? Those were the days, boss! We did some hard hitting then, and we struck out straight from the shoulder. Lots of people are still wondering how we did it. Some of them could never quite decide whether The Gray Phantom was man or devil. I was proud of you in those days, boss."

Wade's chest expanded; his plump face shone. The other tapped the desk with a pencil. "But it was only an emotional eruption, Wade. It gave us a few thrills, but the glamour soon wore off. It was madness—sheer madness. Now it's different. I was dragged back into the old life, I didn't go back voluntarily. It's still madness—but of a different kind." A twitching tremor crossed his pale, strained face. "In the past it was only play. Now it is a matter of life or death. How does it strike you as different?"

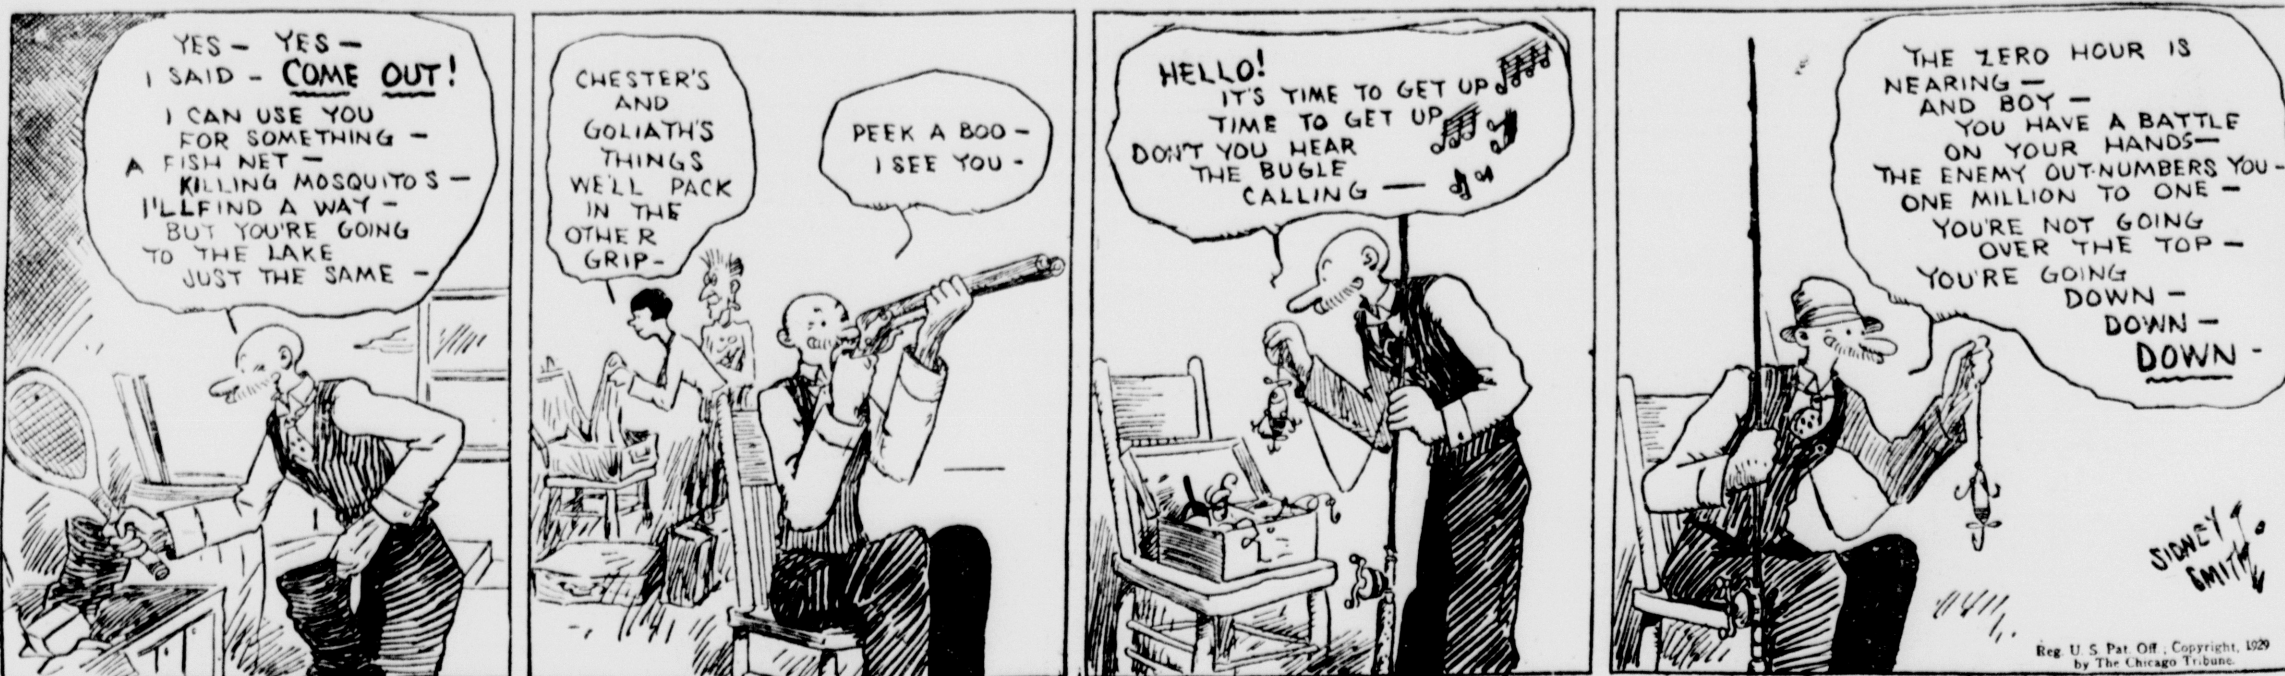

Wade thought for a moment. The glow faded from his face. "It must be the way we go about it. In the old days we struck out with a wallop, knocking 'em cold. Now we sit down and take our pen in hand. We send out polite letters to millionaires asking them to come across with a million each. If the letters don't work, we strike—but the old punch is missing."

Wade sighed and spread out his fat legs incased in meticulously creased trousers. The other, his head bent low, looked off into space.

"Those letters were Lavery's idea," he explained. "I still think he was right. They served a double purpose.

If every car was labelled with the Name of the Gas it carried—

we'd need no other advertising for Three cars of the same make lined up abreast on a wide boulevard. Presto! The red light changes to green. Zip! . . . One car flashes away from the others like a greyhound from a pair of lumbering English bulls.

What made the difference? A few months ago, you'd have said "An extra quality gasoline at an extra cost." But today, the well-posted motorist would say: "It's probably Hi-test TYDOL. An extra quality gas without any extra cost."

Hi-test TYDOL, a high-test, anti-knock, super-power gasoline, at the price of ordinary gasoline, is the most notable success in Tide Water's fifty years of progressive history.

But if all the cars using Hi-test TYDOL, in brilliant and outstanding performance, carried its name on their gas-tanks, we couldn't fill the demand.

So, luckily, until all motorists know about it, there will be plenty of Hi-test TYDOL for you!

TIDE WATER OIL SALES CORP., 11 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, N. Y.

Certified by officials of the National Aeronautical Association, Martin Jensen proved the power of Hi-test TYDOL by climbing 26,600 feet—a world's altitude record for a motor car gasoline.
